DEATH OF THE FAMOUS COMEDIAN.

The Well Known Delicater of German Characters Falls a Victim to Pneumonia at His Summer Residence.

CORNWALL--ON-THE-HUDSON, June 14.--"Fritz" Emmett, the well-known comedian, died here at 11:15 o'clock a. m. Monday of pneumonia. Mr. Emmett was in poor health when he arrived here about ten days ago, and the symptoms of pneumonia developed about a week ago. Emmett's health began to break about eight months ago, when he was stricken with nervous prostration. He has been almost constantly under the care of a physician since that time, and at the latter's direction closed his season in April and went abroad.

Too Modest

To say much for ourselves, we have kept quiet the past year and "saved wood", but with springing grass and leafing trees we begin to feel as if it was the proper caper to blow our own horn a little.

You take a drive or walk thro' Glen-Etta and Riverview, and so along south thro' Carrington, Wheeler & Whitehead additions and you will wonder why we are so modest. We are now putting down 2,000 feet more water main, thus continuing our "Riverview" system thro' both of the other additions so that every lot on the three additions will have artesian water. Today there are in course of erection seven more new homes, making in all TWENTY-FIVE homes within sixteen months. Our enterprises are no boom projects, they are just straight, plain business efforts, resulting in home building by home seekers.

If you keep your eyes open and watch Spring Brook and Riverside, you will also see there fresh surprises, hose additions are coming to the front.

If you seek a home, if you seek an investment, if you want ANYTHING in real estate, you are not in the right place till you see us. Yours very truly,

GEO. L. & SARAH H. CARRINGTON.

CANADIAN POLITICS.

Places of the New Administration--Mr.

OTTAWA, Ont., June 16.--The following programme has been practically decided upon by the new administration:

Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, as premier, will continue to be government leader in the senate, and will also act as president of the council.

Sir Hector Langevin will continue to be the nominal leader of the commons until the end of the present season, when he will retire and accept the lieutenant governorship of Quebec.

Sir John Thompson will, to all intents and purposes, be the active leader in the commons. The ministers will resume their portfolios with the exception of Mr.

Chapleau, who has demanded the portfolio of railways and canals, and it is in this connection that the most serious hitch is likely to occur.

Unless Mr. Chapleau's demand is complied with there is likely to be a big row, and a serious one may occur in the conservative ranks. Mr. Chapleau is practically master of the situation and is conscious of his power. He has hitherto been contented to take a back seat to Sir Hector Langevin, but now his opportunity has come, and he has evidently made up his mind that his wishes shall be complied with or he will make it uncomfortable for the party.

His supporters claim that he has hitherto been treated unfairly, and it is time that he should receive his reward. As he counts upon a considerable following in the house his attitude is not to be treated lightly at the present juncture.

The whole fate of the administration depends upon Mr. Chapleau's movements, and there may be some exciting developments before parliament meets.

Cloudburst in Tennessee.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 16.--At Newmanville, Greene county, Saturday, a cloudburst did great damage.

The fall of water was something terrific and a small creek became a raging river 100 yards wide and many feet deep. The storehouse, residence and all outbuildings of T. N. King were swept away. A number of other houses were carried away and all crops along creek bottom lands destroyed. The water came down so fast that the people barely had time to flee to the ridge.

Flooded by a Storm.

PEORIA, Ill., June 16.--A hard rainstorm swept over Tazewell county Monday afternoon. The water fell in torrents for two hours and the town of Hilton was nearly washed away. Cellars, wells and cisterns are flooded, and in some instances houses were washed from their foundations. Farm creek, a little stream, was suddenly converted into a torrent and five bridges were washed away. Great damage is reported to crops.

Blaine's All Right.

BOSTON, June 16.--A relative and intimate friend of Mr. Blaine in this city says that the secretary was examined by Dr. Janeway, of New York, just as he started for Bar Harbor, and that the physician told him he had no organic trouble whatever. His present ill health was due wholly to nervous prostration and the reaction caused by family affliction, and that rest from work and relaxation would bring him out all right.

Both Were Drowned.

TROY, N. Y., June 16.--John Adams and Miss Josie Orr were drowned in Lake Champlain Sunday evening. As they neared the dock Adams attempted to jump ashore, and in doing so he careened the frail craft and frightened

Miss Orr. She sprang to her feet, and a sudden lurch precipitated both into the water. Neither could swim, and assistance arrived too late to be effective in saving them.

Slew His Deranged Son.

COLORADO SPRING, Col., June 16.--

Policeman John Chapman shot and instantly killed his 20-year-old son, Wallace, at 6 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Wallace, who was mentally deranged, was pursuing a tramp with stones when the father interfered. The son turned upon him and chased him some distance, when he fired. The shot was intended to frighten the youth, but the aim was too low.

Startling, but Probably False.

NEW YORK, June 16.--Considerable alarm was created down town Monday by a report that the steamship Etruria, of the Cunard line, had been lost at sea. The agents of the company had no information of an accident, and they believe the vessel is all right. The steamer left this port for Europe on Saturday last. She had a large complement of passengers.

Killed His Son and Himself.

ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 16.--Rev. Frank D. Lee, son of the late Cassius F. Lee, residing in the vicinity of the Theological seminary in Fairfax county, in a spell of temporary aberration of mind Sunday put an end to the life of his only son, aged 9 years, to whom he was devotedly attached, and then committed suicide.

Dropped Dead in the Pulpit.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 16.--Rev. Ephraim Roher, a minister of the old

Mennonite church, near Mountville, dropped dead while preaching Sunday afternoon. There was the greatest excitement for some time. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause of death. Deceased was over 70 years of age.

Strike in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 16.--Six hundred architectural iron workers, platers, molders and pattern workers went on a strike Monday. This may delay the finishing work on all the new big buildings in the city. The men demand thirty cents per hour and eight hours to the day.

Just as soon as a man loses all his property then we all reeklekt at once that he was always a kussid phool.

There are but phew things a man dries in this life, be they good, bad, or indifferent, but what can be traced to self-luv.

The man who is humble in prosperity and brave in adversity is as much above fortune as an angel is above tempestuous.

The government's efforts to tax oleomargarine into disuse have not proved very successful. Revenue from stamp sales has steadily increased since the law went into effect and during the ten months ended with April more stamps were sold than for any previous twelve months.

A BABE'S AWFUL END

Beloit Little One Scalded With Boiling Grease.

HER FACE SHOCKINGLY BURNED.

While Playing About a Kitchen Table the Child Grasps a Cupful of Hot Drippings And Attempts to Drink It--Death Ends The Fearful Agony.

BELOIT, June 15.--The fifteen months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers Goodwin died last evening from scalds inflicted by burning grease. The cup of grease was placed upon the table near the baby, who was just beginning to learn the use of its limbs. Child-like she toddled over to the table, reached for the cup and succeeded in spilling its contents over her face and body, scalding her terribly. Death came after hours of frightful agony. The funeral was held this afternoon.

THE SWISS HORROR.

Further Details of Sunday's Railway Accident.

BASEL, June 16.--The state of terrible excitement into which the inhabitants of this city were plunged Sunday by the Muenchenstein railroad disaster continues. People are still flocking to the scene, the majority on foot, others in all kinds of vehicles, until it may be almost said that every man and woman of Basel and its neighborhood have visited the broken bridge. The total number of people who lost their lives is placed at 120, with hundreds more or less injured. The victims are mostly leading citizens of Basel and its neighborhood.

Two engines and three carriages loaded with excursionists fell into the stream, which flowed beneath the iron bridge which gave way and caused the disaster. These carriages and engines formed a shapeless heap of wreckage beneath the bridge structure, and by its own size prevented two other carriages from falling and still further increasing the number of killed and wounded. Of the large number of persons injured many have suffered so seriously that it is considered likely that their injuries will terminate fatally, as they consist of bad lacerations and in some cases limbs have been completely severed.

Shortly after the first horror of the crashing of the engines and cars through the bridge and into the swiftly running stream had died away the survivors of the accident saw scenes which must have rivaled in horror the most heartrending features of the Johnstown disaster in the United States. Beneath the bridge, or what remained of it, was a hideous mass of broken car wood, car wheels, engines, railroad car upholstery, seats, mats, axes, broken glass and twisted tin work, intermixed with still quivering heads bespattered with blood and brains, protruding arms and legs, bloody garments of all descriptions, hats and bonnets, umbrellas and parasols, hands and feet, while floating down the stream were numbers of dead bodies and struggling men, women and children, a few now and then uttering cries of terror or emitting gurgling, moaning gasps peculiar to the drowning.

After the first moment of partial paralysis the survivors did their utmost to rescue those whose lives were in danger. The work of pulling those who remained in the two suspended cars from the perilous position in which they were located was one of great danger and difficulty, and resulted in a number of instances of heroic conduct.

In the meantime passengers were dispatched on all sides for medical relief, which was most urgently needed by the hundreds of wounded people, whose cries for help were most heart-rending. The only thing possible was done by the survivors some time elapsed before the physicians reached the spot. The troops and the firemen were the next to arrive, and they did good service in many ways, so much so that by nightfall about sixty bodies had already been recovered from the wreck and from the mountain stream into which the engine and cars of the excursion train had plunged.

GROWING WEAKER.

Ex-United States Senator McDonald, of Indiana, Said to Be Dying.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 16.--Ex-Senator Joseph McDonald's friends have been alarmed for several weeks past concerning his health, and have now received an intimation from Dr. Rumpel that the end is not far off. His ailment is cancer of the stomach. A consultation of physicians was held at the senator's house Monday, but at its close the doctors could give Mrs. McDonald no hope. The patient has not been able to retain food on his stomach, and the excessive heat has tended further to deplete his strength.

Two Yachtsmen Drowned.

NEW YORK, June 16.--The police of the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street station report that at 12:15 a. m. Monday the tugboat F. W. Devoe ran into and sunk the yacht Emily in the Hudson river opposite One Hundred and Tenth street. Frank Jenkins and William H. Bohan were drowned.

WHY I AM A PROTECTIONIST.

I am a Protectionist because I think that by that policy the workmen of America will be well and handsomely paid.
Because I think that by that policy the variety of industry will be created here which will make America strong in peace and in war.
Because the industries so fostered will develop the skill and brain power of my countrymen, and raise the people of the United States to the first rank in intelligence among the nations of the earth.

Because that policy has already made us the richest and strongest nation on earth, and under a properly restricted immigration will bring to us much that is most valuable in the population of other lands.—George F. Hoar in American Economist.

First—It brings together diversified industries which never fail to vastly increase the personal intelligence, industry and wage earnings of the people.

Second—It adds prodigiously to the power of increasing by machinery and steam and water power the necessities of life and of advancing civilization, and also greatly cheapens the cost of subsistence.
Third—It furnishes an opportunity for every person to find the employment best adapted to his or her genius and capacity that will secure the largest income or the greatest happiness.

Fourth—It creates a home market, without which the cultivators of land in America would be but a little better off than our aborigines.
Fifth—It is the bulwark of national independence in peace or war.—Justin S. Morrill in American Economist.

THE CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

Over a week ago The Gazette announced that City Attorney Doe would declare the Janesville charter amendments to be valid. To Gazette readers, therefore, the report made to the council last evening was nothing new. Only those who sit in the sepulchral shadow of a subscription to our slow-moving River street contemporary, found anything to surprise them. Had they read The Gazette they would have been informed long ago on each development of a controversy which involves many important points, and which is by no means settled.

True it is that unless the matter is taken into court the amendments will stand. But Attorney-General O'Connor need not go outside of his own party to find hosts of attorneys who question the power of state officers to glue together patchwork laws out of legislative remnants, and present them to the governor for his signature weeks after the legislature adjourns.

Editor Ingersoll is said to be a trifle skeptical over the hay seed in Congressman Rabbitt's hair. He remarks jeeringly: "It is said that when Congressman Rabbitt told the picnicers at Crystal Springs Wednesday that 'he had left the plow in the furrow he had been following all the spring, to be present at the meeting,' he held up his 'horny hands,' covered a foot or two deep with callouses, in evidence of the truth of his assertion, and the assembled crowd as one man ejaculated, 'The p-o-o-r d-e-a-r man!'"

Madison Journal—It is some weeks since the Milwaukee Journal had a word to say about the "fair and dade commissioner," and the humberg office of dairy and food commissioner. It will probably be my more weeks before the cheap and petty organ has any more criticism to make upon that office since a democrat who says the office is an important one has taken hold of the place.

Humanly speaking, Schweinfurth made a mistake at Kansas City in calling on the police and threatening to bring floods and disaster on the place at some future time for the invasion of the heaven he was establishing. He should have invoked the supernatural forces at once.

There is more sensibility being developed over the run of royal material in the British regions than might be expected from recollections of other times. When they hear people to stand around in tinsel and look good they do not want any breaks.

The Canadian blue book shows that the debt in that country has increased in twenty years from 22.47 per capita to $16.79. They should put their hands in their pockets if they hope to ever break down the dividing line.

It is stated that Francis Wilson, the comic opera man, has in view $100,000 for his girations the coming year. John Sullivan could, perhaps, make more if he were allowed to give the exhibition he has genius for.
Pronounced Henipus. Yet saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and happy woman. Trial bottles free at W. T. Sherer & Co.'s drugstore; regular size 50c and $1.00.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

Colorado's Gallant Legislature.

ANNIE LEONARD KELLEY.

The senate of Colorado cultivates the esthetic element by having a handsome elocutionist for reading clerk. Miss Annie Leonard Kelley, the clerk, was born in Chicago, April 13, 1873, of Irish parents, was educated in the common schools of her native city and took high rank as a reader from the first. In 1890 her parents removed to Denver, where she completed her school education, and at a very early age gained fame as an elocutionist. Being attractive in person as well as melodious in voice, she makes the reading of the ordinarily dry journal seem like the rendition of a poem.

An English View of Protection.

There is this difference between an Englishman and his servant on the American press—an Englishman will sometimes stop lying. And English newspapers are beginning to tell the truth about the effects of our late fiscal legislation. One of these commences an article as follows:

"There are signs of the McKinley tariff producing the effect its promoters designed and anticipated—that is, the transfer of manufacturing industries from foreign countries to the United States. Rhode Island is likely to become the site of a great woolen mill factory, promoted by powerful interests in England and on the continent. Germany is moving in that direction, for besides other trades she finds her cutlery trade hit hard, which is true also of Sheffield. The cutlery of Solingen think seriously of transferring their works, and many operators have emigrated in advance of their employers."

After a sneer at the quality of the German cutlery—the English have always maintained that their poor bayonets and swords were from Solingen—and mentioning the German habit of forging marks on their cutlery the paper continues:

"There are signs elsewhere as well of transfers of factories to America—a movement that would increase in magnitude if confidence were felt in the permanence of any fiscal policy adopted in the United States. The speech of the president at Galveston shows that the leader of the Republican party will only modify the protection policy in the line of reciprocity, as laid down by Mr. Blaine. This is undoubtedly true, and if President Harrison had stated distinctly after the November elections that no legislation in the interest of British capitalists could become a law during his administration, more transfers of factories to this country would have been chronicled, and by so much would there be less corruption in our next general election, for even a British manufacturer, with his mill in this country, will not be found contributing to 'Reform.'"

Protection in Louisiana.

The following letter was sent to the committee of the Tariff League banquet by Congressman H. Dudley Coleman, who voted against the McKinley bill:

"Business engagements will prevent my leaving this city in time to be with you in person. I have, however, taken the liberty of sending to you this day by express, charges prepaid, a few samples of protective products of Louisiana—cane sugar, rice, salt, oranges, peanuts and pecans. It would have afforded me much pleasure to have sent a supply of these protective Louisiana products sufficient for the requirements of a banquet of 500 plates; but these samples will show to our friends that Louisiana is interested in the proposition of 'Protection to American industries' as a principle. These samples of sugar and rice are placed in glass boxes and made in imitation of cotton bales. The cotton is sent in this case as packing material and to prevent breakages. You are authorized to make such distribution of these samples as you deem proper and as may suit your convenience, and I sincerely hope you will not be bothered or inconvenienced by the receipt of them. I have had the pleasure of meeting most of the distinguished speakers who will be present at your banquet, and I should enjoy very much meeting them again and hearing their eloquent speeches on the subject of Protection to American industries and American labor."

Another Subsidy Line.

The Hungarian diet has authorized the minister of commerce of Hungary to enter into an agreement with the Adria Steamship Navigation company to extend its service to Brazil and the River Plate countries, for which it will receive an annual subsidy of 700,000 florins per year. The capital of the company will be increased to 5,500,000 florins, of which 3,000,000 florins will be invested in new ships.

American Cutlery at the League Banquet.

The prominence given to the fact that the dinner was American caused every guest to note the brand of the table knives—"Lander, Frary & Clark, Cutlery to the American People"—and the same old story was again told on the fact that the production and consumption of American goods was rapidly increasing under the beneficial effects of a Protective tariff and with no advance in price.

SHOT THE CZAR'S TROOPS.

Russian Soldiers Annihilated in a Conflict with Pirates.

BATUM, June 16.—Six Russian soldiers were killed and two seriously wounded in a series of conflicts with pirates in the bay Sunday night. A boat containing five soldiers met a strange boat manned by twelve pirates. The officers in command of the soldiers ordered the pirates to stop and allow the soldiers' boat to run alongside of them. The pirates answered by firing a volley from their rifles at the soldiers, killing four of them. The pirates then escaped and the surviving soldier pulled ashore and gave the alarm. A boat manned by four soldiers then went in pursuit of the pirates and managed to overhaul them. Again the pirates fired, killing two of the four Russian troops sent in pursuit of their boat. The wounded Russians managed to pull ashore and gave an account of their experiences. The result was that a third boat, this time better manned, was sent after the pirates. The latter then made good their escape. A Russian gunboat has been sent in pursuit of the pirate craft.

ESCAPE OF PRISONERS.—The report that the prisoners have been and are constantly escaping from that malignant gaoler, liver complaint, is fully corroborated by a self-liberated captive. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are, they say, the means by which they get rid of their fetters. Few altogether avoid the bondage of this ailment, and few are unacquainted with its signs, viz.: Pain through the right side and shoulder blade, furred tongue, yellowness of the eye-balls and skin, sour breath, sick headache, dyspepsia and constipation. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters puts a prompt period to these, brings them to a full stop in short order. Whether the trouble is chronic or temporary, this medicine is equally effective, regulating the liver and bowels thoroughly. It is likewise a sovereign remedy for rheumatism, kidney complaint, malaria, heartburn and nerv.

DR. W. O. COFFEE.

The Oculist and Aurist Speaks of some Remarkable Cures Made in the Last Three Months.

"The Blind Restored to Sight; the Deaf Made to Hear and the Mute to Talk," is Literally True With Him—Many Cases That Given Up Years Ago as Incurable, Cured Quickly.

Deafness Cured in One Treatment—Cross-Eyes Straightened in One Minute, Without Pain or Chloroform or Ether—Tumors Removed From the Eyes and Patient Goes Home Well.

Read This Carefully—Consultation $1.00—Will Be in Office Every Day This Month, Janesville, Wisconsin.

T. E. Stevens, Fulton, Rock county, one of the leading and most successful farmers in Rock county, had a warty growth on the inner corner of lower eyelid, which doctors called a cancer; also had stopping of the Lachrymal or Tear Duct which caused a constant flow of tears on the least exposure to wind, and the eye was always inflamed or irritated. Dr. Coffee removed the growth from the eye lid, later on he treated the tear duct, and put in a silver tube which gave me immediate relief.

J. H. Beyers, Janesville, had granulated tear ducts for 15 years; was a constant source of annoyance and pain. Had been to several doctors, and they said tear ducts could not be cured. Called on Dr. Coffee in April, and he split the duct and put a probe in, and in a few days had it opened perfectly, and has cured them up, also the granulations. I recommend all persons suffering as I did to be treated by him.

Charles Rouch, 315 Lynn street, Janesville, says: My eyes were badly inflamed and swollen. The tear duct in both eyes were stopped up, and constant flow of tears over the lids. I went to Dr. Coffee last month; he split the tear duct and syringed it out, and treated the eyelids, and gave me immediate relief.

Mrs. J. Ward, Johnston, this county, says: My daughter had been cross-eyed since she was three years old. Her sight was very bad; I took her to Dr. Coffee in April and he straightened her eyes in two minutes, without chloroform or ether. He used cocaine. We went home the same day. I did not have to go back; her eyes are straight and sight is good.

Mr. James Dalton, Silver Lake, Wisconsin, says: I had a pterygium or growth over my eye for five years. I called on Dr. Coffee in April. He removed the growth without pain; I went home the same day, and had no more trouble. I consider him an expert oculist.

Mrs. Frank Butts, Clinton, Wisconsin, says: I had tumor on eye lid for nearly a year. Dr. Coffee removed it last week in two minutes.

Mrs. Judson Munger, Edgerton, Wisconsin, says: Was deaf for ten years, and grew constantly worse. I called on Dr. Coffee in May, and the first treatment he opened up the tubes to my ear and I could hear much better in two months' treatment. I am almost well; my catarrh is cured.

Mr. T. W. West, Orfordville, had catarrh and deafness; was greatly relieved by treatment of my deafness and catarrh. Mr. Clark, Janesville, says: My son was very deaf, and had catarrh. Dr. Coffee has cured him almost completely.

Oscar Mabin, Janesville, says: "My daughter was very deaf and had catarrh. Dr. Coffee helped her hearing the first treatment, and she has constantly improved, and is almost completely restored. Thomas Warren, Edgerton, had polypus tumor in nose, and deafness was restored by Dr. Coffee in five minutes."

O. Overstend's, Orfordville, son had tumor in his nose and deafness, was operated on by Dr. Coffee, and hearing almost completely restored in one week. J. H. Haddock, conductor on St. Paul road, had six polypus tumors removed from his nose, and catarrh cured by Dr. Coffee without pain.

James Ryan's, 114 West Milwaukee street, little daughter had catarrh of the ear cured in four of five treatments.

L. E. Currier, 51 Locust street, had catarrh and terrible headaches. Was cured by Dr. Coffee in two months.

JUNE RACES BEGUN.

The First Day of the Races a Great Success.

HOT, BUT A PERFECT DAY WITHAL.

A Fine Track, a Large Attendance and Fine Speed Contests Make the Day One of Rare Pleasure—Notes Picked Up About the Fair Grounds.

A warm summer sun shone down upon, and glistened from, the polished wheels of swiftly moving sulkeys at the fair grounds this afternoon. The same sun that glistened from the shining spokes caused great beads of perspiration to gather on the faces of the multitude of spectators who sat on the grand stand. It beat upon the rich and poor alike.

The "swipes" stood enveloped in the heavy horse blankets—it is apparent one of the laws of the trade that they must wear them while waiting for the horses—and fairly sweltered. The great clouds of dust kicked up by the flying feet of the booted animals, mixed with the perspiration, caused them to look much like colored boys who were engaged in the same work.

Many Had Grand Stand Seats.

It was an ideal day. On the grand stand were representatives of the clergy and many of the better class. Ladies moved fans back and forth, listlessly coaxing a small breeze to blow. The men mopped their heated brow, tied their handkerchiefs about their necks and tried to keep cool without resorting to artificial means. Most of them were affected in the same way. Nothing but the refreshments served by Will Cunningham's aproned assistant seemed to help their case, and they made frequent pilgrimages.

Now Why Is This?

Why the heat should not effect the ladies in the same way was a conundrum. Lemonade served them as a cooling agent, but the men—well it took something else to touch the right spot.

The grand stand was a vision of beauty. Bright colored dresses and dainty hats harmonized with the more sober dress of the men.

These Were on the Track.

The men who wore fancy costumes were not in the grand stand, they inhabited the quarter stretch and bought small yellow tickets. A checked suit, a loud fannel shirt, a red necktie, and a white store-pipe hat with a wide black band, and perhaps a linen duster, distinguished the "sports" from the business men, who came to see the race, and not to turn an "honest penny."

Even with these, however, the tendency to risk a dollar on judgment was frequently too strong to resist.

Harsh, but Sweet, Withal.

The bell in the judges' stand had a harsh grating sound. In fact it much resembled the sound made by forcing a huge rat-tailed file through the hole in the center of an immense circular saw.

The Trotters Come Out.

Then the horses made their appearance. They all act as if they were conscious of the fact that they were not the common herd. With heads erect, and ears inclined forward, they come up the track. Maud, the bay mare, by Clay Cadmus, owned by B. F. Swaggard, Sweet Springs, Missouri, was the center of attraction.

The Trials of Speed.

The 2:50 class was first called. There were fourteen entries: Bismark Monroe by Victor Von Bismark, Kitty C. by General Grant, William B. by George Sprague, Victoria McGreggor by Robert McGreggor, Tinker by Nestor, Nestwood by Nestor, J. P. Pontoon by Patronage, Maud by Clay Cadmus, Twine Binder by Panie, Dorothy by Prince Dictator Billy Phallmont, by Phallmont, Jennie Star by Masterlode, Little Albert by Albert W.

It was generally believed that Maud had the race before the horses started. Kitty C. was the only horse who could keep near her. At Elgin Maud lost the first two heats and won the last three. At Rockford she won in straight heats.

Soft Thing for Maud.

In the 2:50 race only seven out of fourteen horses entered started. Kitty C. Victoria McGreggor, Pontoon, Dorothy, Billy Phallmont, Jennie Star and Little Albert being drawn. The drawing of Kitty C. left it, the knowing ones said, an easy victory for Maud. So the first heat ended. Twine Binder gave Maud a pretty close race until the distance post was reached, when she pulled ahead and won handily. Up to the hour of going to press, the race stands.

How About the 2:30 class.

Ed Graham was said to be the horse that would win the 2:30 race, although Hattie K by Phallias 2:13, Lycurgus by Aberdeen, Alix by Patronage, Andrew Allison by Andante, Prince S. by Volunteer Swigert, Phallene by Phallmont, were all known to be game. Perhaps this was largely due to the fact that Ed Graham won at Elgin and Rockford in straight heats. Graham, it is said, was driven a mile in 2:19 by Splan at Cleveland. He is something of an old-timer, and has not always acted well in races.

Graham Off His Feet.

In the first heats Graham showed that his reputation for bad behavior was not undeserved. He broke at the quarter and never got within sight of the leader. When he came under the wire six two and three hundred people tore up their pool tickets and made remarks that sounded profane. At the hour of going to press the race stands:

Quarter Stretch Notes.

Half the town was up today.

Greely Sloan handled the distance flag.

The track is in the best possible condition.

Cole McLean's new carryall did a good business.

James Collins is writing tickets in one of the pool stands.

John Prown is the marshal, and he rides his horse like a cowboy.

J. E. Gleason has a new $20.00 field glass to watch tricky drivers with.

The judges and newspaper men wrote on tables furnished by C. S. and E. W. Putnam.

One of the bay horses of the street car line died very suddenly this morning from colic.

The fence along the track has been lowered two feet, and the tops of the pickets newly sharpened.

Herb Phillips and R. G. Schenck guard the gates to the grand stand, while Bert Pulker perspires in the ticket office.

The fine field of grain north of the grand stand is a favorite resort for the trotters. They eat their fill while the "swipes" lie on their backs in the fragrant clover.

"Nick" Crotsenberg, formerly Janesville city marshal, came up from Chicago on a visit. The old police instinct was too much for him, and he too wears a star.

H. B. Kenniston and T. F. Baker have charge of the Milwaukee avenue gate and both have been training so that they can throw out anybody who works a skin game on them.

Frank Randall and S. G. Sisson stand on guards at the street car gate, while Arthur Jenkins dispenses tickets. They work in their shirt sleeves, and their shining stars are beautiful to behold.

"We had a lady pool seller with us a while ago," said George Wiles this afternoon. One day she came in and said: "I'm too refined for this rough business, and I must leave you." Since that we haven't had any lady assistant.

S. L. James has charge of the ticket sales. He also has charge of the ticket sales at the Rock county fair. This afternoon Ed. Field found eight tickets for the fair of 1889 behind a board in the office. Mr. James is willing to bet a dollar that he had to see those tickets.

A row of posts have been placed in position at the Christ Church Guild dining hall to keep carriages back. No teams are allowed any nearer to the grand stand. Wallace Cochrane stands in the gap, armed with a big cane ready to keep back the whole United States.

SAY THE GAS FUND IS ALL RIGHT.

City Attorney Doe Says the City Charter Amendments are Operative.

There was no quorum at the council meeting last night, Alderman Brownell, Conger, Lutz, Trulson and Vankirk being the only ones to answer to their names. A motion made by Alderman Brownell prevailed that the council adjourn until Monday evening of next week.

City Attorney Doe stated that he had succeeded in straightening out the charter amendments, including the amendment increasing the gas fund, which had been affixed and signed by the governor, and that in the opinion of the attorney-general the amendments were valid. He also called attention to an amendment to the revised statutes relating to prosecution for drunkenness, providing that in cities where an ordinance was in force for punishment of drunkenness the proceedings must be held under the ordinance, carrying the costs to the city instead of the state. Attorney Doe said he had a scheme to propose to remedy this and would present it to the council at the next meeting.

Alderman Trulson has an order prepared to present, requiring the Chicago & Northwestern and the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway companies to erect and maintain gates at Jackson, High, Academy, Wall and Pleasant streets, which he will present at the first meeting of the council, unless it be declared the council has no power to pass such an order.

FRUIT OF THE MILLS MEETINGS.

Many New Members Received in the Presbyterian Church.

One of the gratifying results of the late Mills' meetings held in this city, was illustrated in the Presbyterian church Sunday when Dr. W. F. Brown, the pastor, baptized nineteen adult persons who had espoused the faith. The new members received numbered fifty-eight. Of these, three came by letter and fifty-five on profession of faith. There are yet eight or ten more to follow.

The membership of the church including those received, composed most of the audience and filled the house. With any ordinary outside attendance in addition, they would have been crowded out. At first the new church was criticised as being much too large. Now it seems to many to be too small. The flexible arrangement of the plan will make it useful for audience of four hundred, six hundred, eight hundred or one thousand as may be found necessary.

THREE IN A CRASH.

Northwestern Engines Pitched About Like Corks.

ONE FALLS IN A TURN TABLE PIT.

Nineteen Locomotives Locked in the Janesville Round House by the Accident—A Misplaced Switch Said to be to Blame for the Affair.

There was a crash at the Northwestern round house this morning at half past five o'clock. Switch engine No. 2, was completely wrecked and two moguls badly damaged.

The switch engine was almost completely buried in the mud in the pit of the turn table. Engine No. 771, a mogul, lost the pilot, and was considerably jammed. Engine No. 791 was struck on the right side, and is torn and jammed, nearly all the wood, pipes, etc., being torn and split off. The accident was due to a misplaced switch.

Saw the Open Switch Too Late.

Conductor James Conley's freight train, drawn by engine No. 771 had just entered the yards at the south end, coming up from Chicago. Just as the engineer turned the curve just south of the round house he noticed the switch was wrong. He shut off steam and brakes were applied, but the train was moving too rapidly to avoid a crash.

Engines Tossed Like Corks.

Switch engine No. 2 was on the track right ahead, and only a few feet from the turn table. Mogul engine No. 791 was on the turn table just going out to take the vestibule to Chicago. The heavy mogul backed by the freight struck the little switch engine with full force, shooting it as if from a gun, right into the turn table pit. As it went the switch engine struck the passenger mogul on the right side, carrying away foot boards around that side of the boiler, pipes, and otherwise smacking her works.

Damaged the Turn Table.

The turn-table was also thrown out of place, and heavy timbers broken in kindling wood.

The freight engine No. 771 lost the pilot clean as if taken off with a pair of shears.

The engineer and fireman, as well as the freight crew, hearing the danger signal, set brakes and jumped. The engine and fireman of the switch engine had just left the cab a moment before, thus avoiding a possible loss of life.

Nineteen Engines Locked Up.

The accident tied up nineteen locomotives inside the circle of the turn table, none of which could be moved until the switch engine was moved out of the way, which was not until this afternoon. A large wrecking crew with derricks went to work at once. The captain of the wrecking crew, watching the operations of the men in removing the wreckage.

Ran From Elroy to Chicago.

The locomotive that brought the vestibule down from Elroy this morning was sent right on to Chicago.

A freight engine was put on the Chicago accommodation, and another freight took the morning passenger north, these being the only engines in the yards not tied up by the wreck, except one switch engine.

Through freight trains were sent out without change of engines, and other trains were held until the engines could be got out of the round house. Very little, if any damage was done other than that noted on the engines and turn-table.

HIS SIGN STRONG ON "L."

Peculiar Combination of Letters Hung Out By L. L. Leffingwell.

A new sign with thirty-five letters in its combination, ten of which were "L's" was hung to the breezes yesterday and read as follows:

BILLIARD HALL,
L. L. LEFFINGWELL,
SAMPLE ROOM.

The sign attracts a good deal of attention owing to the fact that nearly one-third of the letters are "L's," while the most times that any other letter is used, is three, the letter "I."

"Give Him 92, and Let Him Guess."

We once heard a man complain of feeling badly and wondered what ailed him. A humorous friend said, "Give him a doctor 92, and let him guess." It was cutting satire on some doctors, who don't always guess right. You need not guess what ails you when your food don't digest, when your bowels and stomach are inactive, and when your head aches every day, and you are languid and easily fatigued. You are bilious, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets will bring you out all right. Small, sugar-coated, easy to take. Of druggists.

CAPTAIN HARRIS TO BE IN CAMP.

The Recruiting Officer to Have An Eye On The First Regiment.

Captain Moses Harris who conducted a recruiting agency in this city during the winter has been detailed to serve at Camp Douglas this summer. The engineer and fireman of the war department is already well and most favorably known to the local troops. He is a most accomplished critic and student in all military matters, and has a record as a cavalry leader throughout the war of the rebellion and in years of frontier service that compels the respect of every associate. It is an admirable thing for the troops of the Badger state that they are to come under the eye of an officer who stands so high in his profession.

He has other ambitions and does not want to give up college and be prevented from playing with the college club next year, which playing for money this summer would do.

IN DEATH'S SHADOW.

Mrs. Kennedy.

At her home, five miles north of Janesville, very early on Monday morning, June 15, Mrs. Kennedy passed away, aged seventy-three years. For several days the aged mother was slowly and quietly fading from life. On Saturday afternoon she welcomed the minister's presence and prayer, and her faculties were bright to the last. For her own funeral she chose the third parish in the city, the expression of her trust. She leaves six children, besides one who had gone before. In order of age, their names and residences are: Charles Kennedy and Mrs. E. L. Ransom, both in Kansas; Thomas Kennedy, Dakota; Lucius Kennedy, Mrs. Allie Ross, of Janesville; Byron Kennedy, killed by a boiler explosion four years ago, was her sixth child. The funeral was held at the home this afternoon, Rev. Dr. Brown officiating, and the remains were then taken to Edgerton for interment.

John O'Brien.

John O'Brien died at his home, 99 Hickory street, at 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. O'Brien was eighty-three years old, and his death came from the infirmities of age. He had been in the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company many years, at one time being the watchman on the upper street, and later, a signman at one of the street crossings. He was an old resident of the city, a kind hearted and quiet man. His wife died some years ago. Five children, four sons and one daughter, survive him; also, a daughter, widow of the late John O'Grady. Funeral arrangements have not been announced.
